Request your data archive

Download your LinkedIn data

Did you know you can request an archive of your activity and data on LinkedIn anytime?

Within minutes, you'll get the archived information that's fastest to compile including things like your messages, connections and imported contacts. We'll send you an email with a link where you can download it right away.

You'll get an email with a link where you can download the second part of your data archive in about 24 hours. You'll also be able to access your archive by going to your settings, selecting the Account tab, and clicking Request an archive of your data. Want more details? Just visit our Help Center.

Here's what's included

Your data archive will contain the information LinkedIn has stored for you including your activity and account history, from who invited you to join, to the time of your latest login. For the full list, visit our Help Center.

We can't close your account yet

It looks like something needs to be resolved before we can close your account. Once you've resolved the issue, please retry closing your account from your settings page.

- Looks like you're the owner of an active group. You'll need to go to your groups management page and either transfer ownership of the group to another member or close the group, then return to settings to close your account.

(I have ownership responsibilities for at least one LinkedIn Group)
