 Yahoo! Groups Invitation <Collectivenet> Nov 16 (1 day ago) ☆ to me ▾

This invitation expires in 30 days. December 16, 2013 4:44:51 AM PST

You have been invited to join Collectivenet group!

Join this group!

Yahoo Groups is a free service that allows you to stay in touch with friends and family or meet new people who share your interests. It is a violation of our service rules for members to abuse this invitation feature. If you feel this has happened, please notify us. You may also change your email preferences to stop receiving group invitations in the future. Your use of Yahoo Groups is subject to our Terms of Service.

Your Invitation Message may look something like this.

Why do you need a Yahoo Profile (Account)?

- 1) You will be able to view the archive of messages (job leads, job fairs, articles).
- 2) You will be able to specify an alternate Email Address that you monitor regularly.
- 3) You will be able to control Message Delivery (Individual - Digest - No Email)
- 4) You may be able to specify Message Format.

At first some of the information seemed invasive, but my name, gender, birthdate and postal code information is not displayed any where that I have seen.

The process of creating a profile does create an email account; BUT, like me, you do not have to use it, ever.

Welcome to Yahoo Groups.

An extension to your real life group of friends, interests and communities. What's new: see video

I was allowed to progress some with first and last initials

I have never used mine

Tried skipping, accepted bogus number
For years, I did not have a mobile phone.

Seems to require some kind of month
and some kind of day

Note:# When first creating your Yahoo account 'Profile', you can experiment with minimizing the information you give.

Years ago I did specify Birthdate, Gender, Industry, Title, Specialization, Time Zone

For my email address, I do have a yahoo address that I have never used and my primary email address.

For contact information: My first and last name is required (* marks required fields) I also gave a name prefix.

For Home Information: City, State, Zip(* required) and Country.

For Work/School Information: Country.

At the bottom of the form, I see the note:

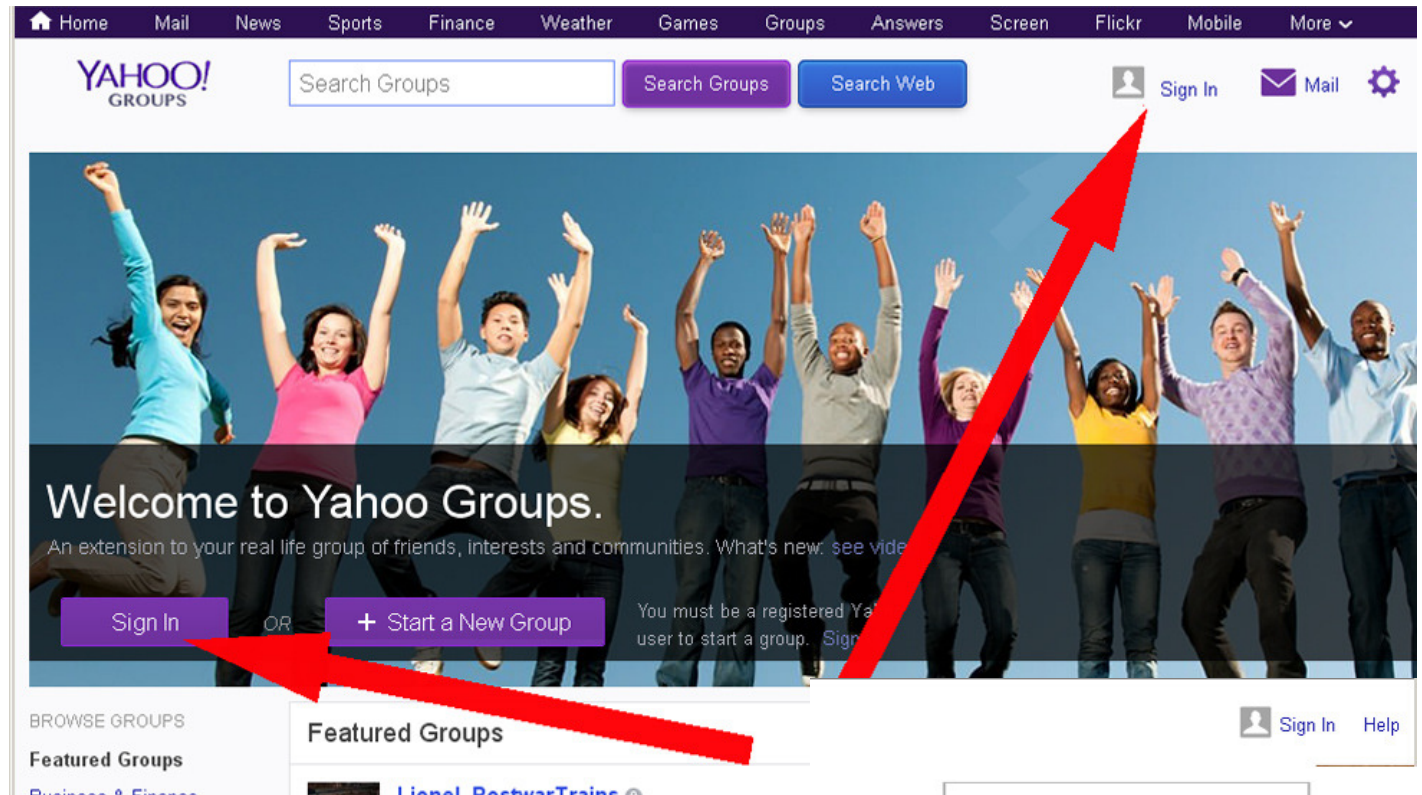

Fields marked with an asterisk (*) are required for most Yahoo! services.

I did not complete some of those because I am not buying any Yahoo services.

- 1) Signing up seems to require:
 - a) a First Name and a Last Name
 - b) Gender
 - c) a Birthdate: Month, Day, Year
 - d) a Postal Code
- 2) Select a unique Yahoo_ID
(Alternatives will be suggested if not unique.)
- 3) Specify a password.
- 4) You may also specify an alternative email address.
(I have never used theirs)
(provide one that you will monitor regularly)
- 5) You will also be asked to select 2 Security Questions and give their answers.
- 6) The code assures them that you are a person and not an electronic robot.
- 7) Agree to their terms.
[Create My Account]

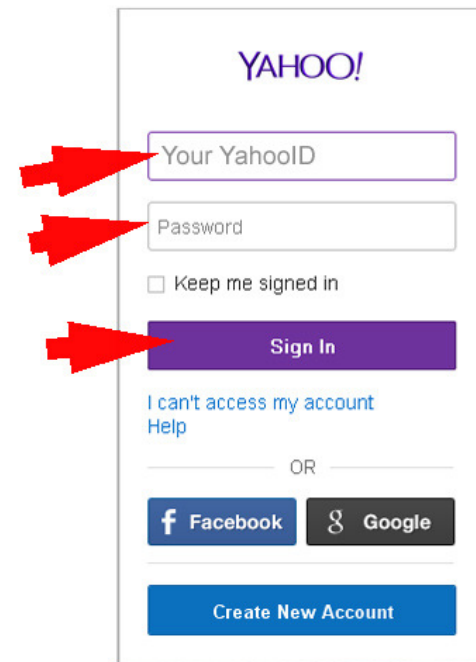

The screenshot shows the Yahoo! sign-up page. At the top, the Yahoo! logo is on the left, and 'Sign In' and 'Help' links are on the right. Below the logo, the language is set to 'English (United States)'. The main heading is 'Sign up'. The form consists of several input fields: 'First name' and 'Last name' (two separate boxes), 'Yahoo username' (with a placeholder '@yahoo.com'), 'Password' (with a 'show' checkbox), 'Mobile number' (with a country code dropdown and a 'None?' link), 'Birthday' (with dropdowns for 'Month', 'Day', and 'Year'), 'Gender' (with radio buttons for 'Male' and 'Female'), 'Optional recovery number' (with a country code dropdown and a 'None?' link), and 'Relationship' (with a 'None?' link). At the bottom, there is a checkbox for 'I agree to the Yahoo Terms and Privacy.' and a purple 'Create account' button. A red arrow points to the 'Create account' button.

"Salary History Can Be Catch 22 when Seeking a Job," Ilana Debare, San Francisco Chronicle, August 3, 1998. [More cautious advice for the more cautious among us.]

Salary History - Job Searching, Technical

This about.com guide offers links to other opinions and strategies for handling salary history requests as well as links to sample salary histories if that's what you've decided to provide.

Q: Many job ads ask for your salary history. How should I handle this? If I tell them, they may use that information to offer me as little money as possible. If I don't tell them, they may just throw my resume in the trash. Please enlighten!

A: Help-wanted ads may ask for two different kinds of information about salary -- your salary history or your salary requirements.

It's usually OK to be vague about your salary requirements and write something like "open for discussion," advises Ron Krannich, author of "Dynamite Salary Negotiations."
